Resting Echocardiogram Report

05019-089

Name: MILLER, RANDALL E		Study Date: 10/03/2016 08:44 AM
MRN: P00282
DOB: [REDACTED] 59	Gender: Male	Height: 71 in	Weight: 200 lb
Age: 57 yrs
Primary Care Physician: Wilson, W. Eric, M.D.
Reason For Study: Dyspnea		BSA: 2.1 meters ²
CPT Code: 93306 Comp. Echo w/Doppler & Color.

MMode/2D Measurements & Calculations

IVSd: 1.0 cm	LVIDd: 5.0 cm	FS: 28 %	Ao root diam: 3.6 cm
	LVIDs: 3.6 cm		LA dimension: 3.3 cm
	LVPWd: 0.80 cm

LVOT diam: 1.6 cm

Doppler Measurements & Calculations

MV E/A: 0.89 AVA(I,D): 1.4 cm²

Interpretation Summary

STUDY PERFORMED 09/29/2016. The left ventricle is normal in size.
Left ventricular systolic function is normal.
Ejection Fraction = 55-60%.
The transmitral spectral Doppler flow pattern is suggestive of impaired LV relaxation.
There is mild mitral valve prolapse.
There is mild mitral regurgitation.
The atrial septum is aneurysmal.
There is trace tricuspid regurgitation.

Left Ventricle

A complete 2-D, M-Mode echocardiogram was performed utilizing doppler and color-flow mapping showing the following results:. The left ventricle is normal in size. There is normal left ventricular wall thickness. Left ventricular systolic function is normal. Ejection Fraction = 55-60%. The transmitral spectral Doppler flow pattern is suggestive of impaired LV relaxation. No regional wall motion abnormalities noted.

Right Ventricle

The right ventricle is normal in size and function.

Atria

The left atrial size is normal. Right atrial size is normal. The atrial septum is aneurysmal.

Mitral Valve

There is mild mitral valve prolapse. There is mild mitral regurgitation.

Tricuspid Valve

The tricuspid valve is normal. There is trace tricuspid regurgitation.

Aortic Valve

The aortic valve is trileaflet. The aortic valve opens well. No aortic regurgitation is present.

Pulmonic Valve

The pulmonic valve is not well seen, but is grossly normal. Trace pulmonic valvular regurgitation.

Great Vessels

The aortic root is normal size.

Pericardium/Pleural

There is no pericardial effusion.

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE NORTHERN DISTRICT OF IOWA
EASTERN DIVISION

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

Plaintiff,

vs.

JEFFREY PAUL GRUBER,

Defendant.

No. CR94-2022-LRR

ORDER REGARDING MOTION
FOR SENTENCE REDUCTION
PURSUANT TO 18 U.S.C. § 3582(c)(2)

This matter comes before the court on its own motion under 18 U.S.C. § 3582(c)(2).

The United States Sentencing Commission recently revised the United States Sentencing Guidelines (“USSG”) applicable to drug trafficking offenses by changing how the base offense levels in the drug quantity tables incorporate the statutory mandatory minimum penalties for such offenses. Specifically, Amendment 782 (subject to subsection (e)(1)) generally reduces by two levels the offense levels assigned to the quantities that trigger the statutory mandatory minimum penalties in USSG §2D1.1 and made parallel changes to USSG §2D1.11. Because Amendment 782 (subject to subsection (e)(1)) alters the threshold amounts in the drug quantity tables in USSG §2D1.1 and USSG §2D1.11, many, but not all, drug quantities will have a base offense level that is two levels lower than before Amendment 782 (subject to subsection (e)(1)).

The court is statutorily precluded from applying a federal sentencing guideline amendment retroactively unless the United States Sentencing Commission designates an amendment for retroactive application. In relevant part, 18 U.S.C. § 3582 provides:

The court may not modify a term of imprisonment once it has been imposed except that . . . in the case of a defendant who has been sentenced to a term of imprisonment based on a sentencing range that has subsequently been lowered by the Sentencing Commission pursuant to 28 U.S.C. [§] 994(o), upon motion of the defendant or the Director of the Bureau of Prisons, or on its own motion, the court may reduce the term of imprisonment, after considering the factors set forth in [18 U.S.C. §] 3553(a) to the extent that they are applicable, if such a reduction is consistent with applicable policy statements issued by the Sentencing Commission.

18 U.S.C. § 3582(c)(2); see also Dillon v. United States, 560 U.S. 817, 826 (2010) (“Section 3582(c)(2)’s text, together with its narrow scope, shows that Congress intended to authorize only a limited adjustment to an otherwise final sentence and not a plenary resentencing proceeding.”); United States v. Auman, 8 F.3d 1268, 1271 (8th Cir. 1993) (“Section 3582(c)(2) is a provision that permits a district court to reduce a term of imprisonment if the sentencing range upon which the term was based is subsequently lowered by the Sentencing Commission.”).

The United States Sentencing Commission promulgated USSG §1B1.10 to implement 28 U.S.C. § 994(u) and to provide guidance to a court when considering a motion under 18 U.S.C. § 3582(c)(2). In relevant part, USSG §1B1.10 states:

In a case in which a defendant is serving a term of imprisonment, and the guideline range applicable to that defendant has subsequently been lowered as a result of an amendment to the Guidelines Manual listed in subsection (d) below, the court may reduce the defendant’s term of imprisonment as provided by 18 U.S.C. § 3582(c)(2). As required by 18 U.S.C. § 3582(c)(2), any such reduction in the defendant’s term of imprisonment shall be consistent with this policy statement.

USSG §1B1.10(a)(1); see also USSG §1B1.10, comment. (n.1) (“Eligibility for consideration under 18 U.S.C. § 3582(c)(2) is triggered only by an amendment listed in subsection (d) that lowers the applicable guideline range . . .”). In addition to specifying which federal sentencing guidelines may be retroactively applied, USSG §1B1.10 guides the court as to the amount by which a sentence may be reduced under 18 U.S.C. § 3582(c)(2). See USSG §1B1.10(b)(1).

On July 18, 2014, the United States Sentencing Commission unanimously voted to apply Amendment 782 (subject to subsection (e)(1)) retroactively to most drug trafficking offenses, and it set November 1, 2014 as the date that Amendment 782 (subject to subsection (e)(1)) would go into effect. Stated differently, Amendment 782 (subject to subsection (e)(1)) is included within subsection (d) of USSG §1B1.10. Consequently, under 18 U.S.C. § 3582(c)(2) and USSG §1B1.10, the court may rely on Amendment 782 (subject to subsection (e)(1)) to reduce a defendant's sentence. But, even if Amendment 782 (subject to subsection (e)(1)) is applicable, a special limiting instruction applies: "The court shall not order a reduced term of imprisonment based on Amendment 782 unless the effective date of the court's order is November 1, 2015, or later." USSG §1B1.10(e)(1); see also Amendment 788 (amending USSG §1B1.10).

At the court's request, the United States Probation Office prepared a memorandum that, among other things, addresses the defendant's eligibility for a sentence reduction under 18 U.S.C. § 3582(c)(2) and calculates the defendant's amended guideline range. The United States Probation Office also provided the court with additional information in support of its memorandum. That information includes, but is not limited to, the defendant's pre-sentence investigation report and the Federal Bureau of Prison's report on the defendant.

Regarding a reduction in sentence pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 3582(c)(2), the court held a hearing on May 12, 2015. In light of the hearing concerning Amendment 782 (subject to subsection (e)(1)), the court concludes that a reduction under 18 U.S.C. § 3582(c)(2) and USSG §1B1.10 is justified. See United States v. Curry, 584 F.3d 1102, 1104 (8th Cir. 2009) (discussing United States v. Wyatt, 115 F.3d 606, 608-09 (8th Cir. 1997)) (explaining requirements under USSG §1B1.10(b)). Having reviewed the defendant's file, the provisions and commentary of USSG §1B1.10, the factors set forth in 18 U.S.C. § 3553(a), the nature and seriousness of the danger to any person or community that may be posed by a reduction in the defendant's term of imprisonment and the defendant's post-sentencing conduct, the court deems it appropriate to exercise its discretion and grant the defendant the maximum reduction permitted under 18 U.S.C. § 3582(c)(2) and USSG §1B1.10.¹ The defendant's previously imposed term of imprisonment, that is, life, as reflected in the amended judgment dated February 24, 2000, is reduced to 360 months imprisonment. The defendant's new sentence of 360 months imprisonment applies to count 1, count 2 and count 38 of the second superseding indictment. Except as provided above, all provisions of the amended judgment dated February 24, 2000 remain in effect. The duration and conditions of the defendant's supervised release remain unchanged. This order will take effect on November 2, 2015.

The clerk's office is directed to send and fax or email a copy of this order to the Federal Bureau of Prisons, that is, the place where the defendant, USM No. 09074-045, is currently incarcerated. The clerk's office is also directed to send a copy of this order to the defendant, retained counsel, the office of the Federal Public Defender, the office of

Criminal History Category:	VI	Criminal History Category:	VI
Previous Guideline Range:	life	Amended Guideline Range:	360 to life

The reduced sentence of 360 months imprisonment on count 1, count 2 and count 38 of the second superseding indictment is within the amended guideline range.

the United States Attorney and the office of United States Probation.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

DATED this 27th day of May, 2015.

Kanzler Landscape Contractor, Inc.

December 27, 2016

To whom it may concern,

Randall Miller was an employee of Kanzler Landscape Contractor's approximately 20 years ago, prior to incarceration. He operated heavy equipment, drove trucks, and did concrete work. Randall left on good standings, was a dependable, honest, and experienced employee. Upon the release of Randall, he will have a guaranteed full time job at Kanzler Landscape Contractor's. Randall was an asset to my company and I believe he will be an asset to the community. If you have any questions please contact me at 815-378-8471.

Sincerely,

Dear Judge J.P. Stadtmueller,

Allow me to take a moment of your time. Back in 1985 I met Randall E. Miller, he and I dated on and off for a year or so. I had married a couple years later but he and I remained close friends. Randy was at my wedding, he was present for the birth of my son, my son carries his name and my husband chose him to be our sons God Father.

I am no stranger to Mr. Miller's life and how he lived as a young man. I know what his charges were as well as his sentence. From 1998 to January 2011 I had started a new life; I remarried, raised my children and I now have grandchildren.

It wasn't until late 2010, when my son was approximately 21, that he came to me asking if it were ok to reach out to Mr. Miller or if I had an issue and if not, could I help locate him. I thought about it and after some time, agreed to get the two in touch through a 3rd party. You see your Honor, it was my sons father, my ex husband that was the main government informant in this case. My son as well as I was greatly impacted due to this cooperation, so you may understand my hesitation in the beginning.

Some time had passed and I agreed to speak to Mr. Miller. It did not take long for me to realize I was no longer speaking to the Randall Miller of the past. I heard a new man, a man with different ideas, thoughts and character. In time I decided to finally pay him a visit and have been visiting since April 2011 and since January 2011, we speak daily. I wanted you to know I have come to know a man no one has seen. He is kind, caring, considerate, thoughtful, ambitious, pleasant, loving, generous and compassionate. He is also a man of remorse and regret.

I know beyond a shadow of a doubt he is renewed because only a man that is regenerated by Jesus Christ can be changed like he has. Mr. Miller has cared for several men while involved in the Companion Program at Springfield Medical Center for Federal Prisoners where he served the needs of aging inmates.

Mr. Miller interacts with my parents, my children and now my grandchildren, they call him Grandpa. Your Honor I could keep you for hours with the changes and the good I now see in this man now, however I have already taken much of your time.

If ever Mr. Miller is given an opportunity of freedom, I can assure you he would be an upstanding member of society, a productive working man, a husband, son in law, step father as well as grandfather with gainful employment, a home, a wife, family and a church home.

Thank you for your time

Sincerely,

Tracy M. Seitz
